

Passion for music changed my career scope from being a Chartered Accountant to being a Music Director and Producer. I started my career in the music business with a start of a Recording Studio (and a production house) from my residence. The world knows it by the name of Kshitij Studios and most of the better Sound Designs and music productions in Delhi bear its name.

Having steered Kshitij Studios from being one of the best Recording Facilities in New Delhi, India to being one of the fastest growing Production Houses today. With a 24x7 dedicated team working here, I imbibe my technical adeptness to each of my employees who have excelled in studio operations.
